1. Is there an identity or identities that you feel particularly attached to?

2. Is there an identity or identities that you feel particularly unconnected to?

3. What does it mean for an identity to be visible/invisible and how does that impact you?

4. How might your identities impact your ability to teach effectively and/or connect to your students?